Dear Valery Federov,

I am very honored and delighted about your kind invitation into the editorial board of your renowned journal "Public Opinion Monitoring". Let me express my excitement about this opportunity to participate in the development of the journal - a task which I am most willing to take on! Apart from the high scientific demands this poses I totally agree with you that this endeavor should strengthen international cooperation, too!

I am very much looking forward to meet you in person, and to discuss aim, scope and the future vision for the journal.

Sincerely Yours,

Christian Fröhlich
